BHOPAL: Denying any major differences with the Special Task Force (STF) over the mode of investigation into the MPPEB scam, Special Investigation Team (SIT) chairman Justice Chandresh Bhushan said the delay in the closure of the investigation was their biggest concern.

Meanwhile, the STF on Friday appraised the Madhya Pradesh high court about a 17-point action plan to arrest the remaining 500 scam accused, who have been absconding. The action plan has already been endorsed by the SIT. The SIT was constituted by the Madhya Pradesh high court to assist it in monitoring the STF's investigation into the PEB scam.

The scam relates to the alleged irregularities in the PEB's admission and recruitment for various courses and government jobs in the state.

In an exclusive interaction with this HT correspondent, Justice Chandresh Bhushan said the SIT's biggest concern was the arrest of the remaining accused and the early closure of the investigation so that the accused, some of who are in jail for a while now, could exercise their legal rights.

IF HE (REFERRING TO FILM ACTOR SALMAN KHAN) CAN GET BAIL IN JUST FOUR HOURS AFTER BEING CONVICTED AND SENTENCED BY A SESSIONS COURT, MANY OF THE PEB SCAM ACCUSED HAVE... BEEN IN JAIL FOR MONTHS

He said: "In its last report, the STF said it still had to arrest the remaining 500 accused. It's not that we don't endorse their line of investigation, but we keep yoking them so that all the absconders are detained and the investigation ends soon," he said. He said: "What happens to the 1800 accused, who are behind the bars in connection with the scam? If they are held guilty and sentenced, then it's a different issue. But they can't be kept in custody without trial for an indefinite period."

On the SIT's reported difference with the STF over the filing of a first information report against some VIPs, including a former chief minister, wife of a minister and a retired IAS officer, he said: "There is no question of differences. By the court's mandate itself, the STF is bound to follow our directive."

When asked if FIRs would be registered against the VIPs in question, he said: "Ask me this question when the charge-sheet is presented and their name does not appear in it or when their name figures in it. In both situations, I will explain why it was done."

HC TAKES ON RECORD STF'S PLAN TO ARREST ABSCONDERS

JABALPUR: The Madhya Pradesh high court on Friday took on record the 17-point action plan of the STF to arrest 500 persons who are absconders or untraceable in the multi-layered MPPEB scam.

The special task force (STF) has furnished it has considered various aspects including modus operandi on which it will work to arrest the absconders or untraceable.

On May 6 last, HC directed the STF to "consider some new method or mechanism for increasing the success rate of arrest of absconding accused".

The action plan was filed before the high court in compliance with the directives of May 6 in this regard, additional advocate general PK Kaurav said. The STF was unable to arrest the absconders due to lack of sufficient information about them. Kaurav said the action plan of STF was also submitted to the SIT. The SIT has given its consent to the action plan. The STF will now proceed for arrest the absconders, he said. HTC ration card holder should have an Aadhaar card or the person would not get wheat, kerosene and sugar, among other provisions. The order came into effect on May 1 this year. "This is highly objectionable as those below the poverty line are not getting the benefits of these essential services," he said. He said the government had taken a decision that violated the Supreme Court's ruling in the issue.

In March this year, the Supreme Court had ruled that the Aadhaar card was not necessary for the people to avail government subsidies. "The poor are suffering all over the state. In Bhopal, machines were to be set up for the Aadhaar cards but only nine machines were installed," he said.
